

PUBLISHED BY THE EASTBOURNE ORDINARIATE MISSION FOR ALL THE COMMUNITIES AT CHRIST THE KING AND ST JOACHIM'S

Second Sunday after Epiphany

18 January 2026

Scott Hahn reflects on Jesus as the Lamb of God.

Jesus speaks through the prophet Isaiah in today's First Reading.

He tells us of the mission given to him by the Father from the womb: "The Lord said to me: 'You are my servant.'

Servant and Son, our Lord was sent to lead a new exodus — to raise up the exiled tribes of Israel, to gather and restore them to God. More than that, he was to be a light to the nations, that God's salvation may reach to the ends of the earth (see Acts 13:46-47).

Before the first exodus, a lamb was offered in sacrifice and its blood painted on the Israelites' door posts. The blood of the lamb identified their homes and the Lord "passed over" these in executing judgment on the Egyptians (see Exodus 12:1-23, 27).

In the new exodus, Jesus is the "Lamb of God," as John beholds him in the Gospel today (see 1 Corinthians 5:7; 1 Peter 1:18-19). In one form of the Gradual (Psalm 40), our Lord sings of this: he has come, he says, to offer his body to do the will of God (see Hebrews 10:3-13). In another form (Psalm 107), the song of the psalmist pre-figures Christ's redemptive sacrifice.

The sacrifices, oblations, holocausts, and sin-offerings given after the first exodus had no power to take away sins (see Hebrews 10:4). They were meant not to save but to teach (see Galatians 3:24). In offering these sacrifices, the people were to learn self-sacrifice — that they were made for worship, to offer themselves freely to God and to delight in his will.

Only Jesus could make that perfect offering of himself. And through his sacrifice, he has given us ears open to obedience, made it possible for us to hear the Father's call to holiness, as Paul says in today's Epistle.

He has made us children of God, baptized in the blood of the Lamb (see Revelation 7:14). And we are to join our sacrifice to his, to offer our bodies — our lives — as living sacrifices in the spiritual worship of the Mass (see Romans 12:1).

This week (18–25 January) is the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

O God, who dost restore them that have gone astray,
dost gather together them that are scattered abroad,
and dost preserve them that thou hast gathered:
we beseech thee of thy mercy
to pour out upon all Christian people the grace of thy communion;
that, divisions being done away,
they may be one flock, in one fold, under one Shepherd, and do thee worthy service;
through Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end. Amen.
